Conserving the Nation's Natural Wealth

TO take crude oil and separate it, without waste, into a maximum number of useful products is the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) ideal of its duties as a public servant.

By utilizing those fractions of the crude which otherwise would be waste, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) becomes a conservator of raw materials, thereby adding to the nation's wealth.

At its refineries more than 2000 products are made, each one serving a definitely useful purpose. These cover everything made from crude oil, from petroleum ether and surgical dressings, to paving asphalt and petroleum coke.

By manufacturing so complete a line of related products, the Company is able to minimize the cost of each, and can sell to you the particular item you need at a low price because the other 1999 are carrying their true proportion of manufacturing costs.

By reason of its thorough organization and the achievements of its manufacturing department, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been able to fill its obligations as a public servant by increasing its sphere of usefulness to meet the ever increasing requirements of the public.

Mary Regan is one of the most popular heroines of modern fiction. Her adventures have been published in Cosmopolitan Magazine, hundreds of newspapers and the complete novel was one of the year's best sellers.

When Big Business, seeking relaxation, squanders its swollen profits on Big Pleasure, New York's whole glittering underworld dances to its whim.

Strong men craving excitement, cunning men of doubtful past, beautiful women without memories or hopes swirl through the shining palaces of night, recklessly squandering health, morals, reputations and hard-earned fortunes.

To play with the devotees of Big Pleasure means the opening of the Golden Doors to the woman who has brains, beauty and nerve.

Such a woman is
